

Apps for Financial Stability

	Description: Autism Speaks Special Needs Financial Planner was created to help parents find information on financial resources and tools that they can use to plan a secure future for their child. In this app, users will find planning tools, information on technical topics like Medicaid, Supplemental Security Income, and ABLE Accounts, as well as links to local professionals who can help families along the journey.
Autism Speaks: Special Needs Financial Planner	How it can help students with autism: This app can help students and their families in multiple ways! It is user friendly and provides families a wealth of information related to financial planning and financial resources.
$Free	Link to the app: https://itunes.apple.com/us/app/autism-speaks-special-needs-financial-planner/id1236967393?mt=8

	Description: Goodbudget is a personal finance app for budget planning and money management. This app allows users to share a budget across multiple phones.
Name: Goodbudget Budget Planner: Money & Expense Tracker	How it can help students with autism: Students with autism can create a personalized budget and learn skills for financial planning. It allows students to create income versus spending reports, schedule transactions and record upcoming transactions. In addition, they can share this app with others to help them monitor their budget.
$Free	Link to the app: https://itunes.apple.com/us/app/goodbudget-budget-planner-money-expense-tracker/id471112395?mt=8

	Description: Money Up was designed by teachers and therapists as a way for people to practice working out how much money they have, if they have enough to purchase the items they need and how much money to give a cashier, all without requiring them to count change. The app's goal is to help children, teens and adults to acquire or maintain a life skill they need in order to foster independence.
Money Up!	How it can help students with autism: The "Next Dollar Up" method teaches about the use of money. It is a well known technique for teaching students with Autism or an Intellectual Disability how to count change or pay for items in a store. It helps to understand how to round up when paying for an item.
$15.99	Link to the app: https://itunes.apple.com/us/app/money-up-learn-to-use-the-next-dollar-up-method/id721334863?mt=8

	Description: Next Dollar Up is a widely utilized special education teaching strategy for those with special needs to develop independence in money management using a whole dollar amount concept. It involves looking at an item price and rounding up to the next dollar to make the purchase.
Next Dollar Up	How it can help students with autism: This app can teach students with Autism practical money counting skills to help them prepare for independent living.
$7.99	Link to the app: https://play.google.com/store/apps/details?id=air.NextDollarUp
	Description: The app will calculate your "Daily Budget" based on your income and fixed costs. It allows you to create wishes to save for larger purchases. The money will be deducted from your budget automatically each day.
Daily Budget Original	How it can help students with autism: This app is user friendly and allows students to create personalized budgets and learn skills for independent living and money management.
$Free	Link to the app: https://itunes.apple.com/us/app/daily-budget-original-saving-is-fun/id651896614?mt=8

	Description: Mint: Personal Finance, Budget, Bills and Money: Puts bills and money together in one place and easier than ever to manage. See bills and money in one place, get alerts and schedule payments on the spot
Mint	How it can help students with autism: This app can help students learn financial management skills. In addition, it allows you to consolidate all of your bills making them easier to pay.
$Free	Link to the app: https://itunes.apple.com/us/app/mint-personal-finance-budget-bills-money/id300238550?mt=8

	Description: Practice counting change and doing addition problems. A great visual learning tool for your iPad
Name: Make Change	How it can help students with autism: Make Change is an iPad app than can help children with autism learn the base values of different coins and assist them with simple addition.
$1.99	Link to the app: https://itunes.apple.com/us/app/makechange-money-counting/id368509937?mt=8&ign-mpt=uo%3D4

	Description: Autism Apps is simply a comprehensive list of apps that are being used with and by people diagnosed with autism, Down syndrome and other special needs. It also includes links to any available information that can be found for each app.
Autism Apps	How it can help students with autism: A lot of financial planning apps for students with Autism can be found in this app. The app is constantly changing and being updated with the latest and greatest apps for students with autism.
$Free	Link to the app: https://itunes.apple.com/us/app/autism-apps/id441600681?mt=8

	Description: Venmo is the simple and fun way to send and receive money between friends
Venmo	How it can help students with autism: This app provides students a simple way to pay friends, family members or landlords. Teaches payment strategies for independent living.
$Free	Link to the app: https://itunes.apple.com/us/app/venmo/id351727428?mt=8

Prism

$Free

Description: Prism is the easy personal finance app for managing and paying bills.

How it can help students with autism: This app teaches students with autism personal finance and money management.

Link to the app: <https://play.google.com/store/apps/details?id=com.mobilligy.android&hl=en>

PocketGuard

$Free

Description: PocketGuard is an all-in-one bank account tracking and budget management app that shows you how much you've got in your accounts, as well as how much you can afford to spend for the day. The app connects to your bank and card accounts through an encrypted, read-only connection, allowing you to quickly view the status of your accounts and transactions while remaining secure.

How it can help students with autism: This app makes it easy to pay bills all from one place.

Link to the app: <https://play.google.com/store/apps/details?id=com.pocketguard.android.app&hl=en>

Home Budget

$4.99

Description: HomeBudget is an integrated expense tracker designed to help you track your expenses, income, bills-due and account balances. It offers support for budgeting and allows analysis of your expenses and income, including charts and graphs. It also allows users to share their budget with family members.

How it can help students with autism: This app allows students to share their budgets with parents or guardians. It teaches financial management skills for independent living.

Link to the app: <https://play.google.com/store/apps/details?id=com.anishu.homebudget.full&hl=en>

	Description: This app allows users to keep track of money saved and set saving goals. It includes social and location tools for expenses, allowing users to record how much they are spending and with who. It also you to create a saving and spending budget.
Wally	How it can help students with autism: This app can help students learn how to save money and set financial goals.
$Free	Link to the app: https://itunes.apple.com/us/app/wally-smart-personal-finance/id610314677?mt=8

	Description: This app allows users to analyze your income and spending through brightly colored charts and infographics.
Spendedee	How it can help students with autism: This app can assist students with financial planning and budgeting. It is slightly different from the other apps because it uses brightly colored images to show spending trends.
$Free	Link to the app: https://itunes.apple.com/us/app/spendedee-budgeting-app-money-expense-tracker/id635861140?mt=8

Description: This financial planning app allows users to enter their monthly income then build a budget based on that income. It also allows users to link their bank accounts to log and track their purchases.

Every Dollar

How it can help students with autism: This app can help students with budgeting and financial planning based in their personal income.

$Free

Link to the app: <https://itunes.apple.com/us/app/everydollar-budget-manage-money-track-spending/id942571931?mt=8>

Description: Get your free credit scores, reports and more on Credit Karma. Checking your own credit won't affect your score, and we'll never ask for your credit card info.

Credit Karma

How it can help students with autism: Knowing and tracking your credit score is an important task for a secure financial future. This is a free app that allows students to monitor their credit with weekly updates and notifications.

$Free

Link to the app: <https://itunes.apple.com/us/app/credit-karma-credit-scores-reports-alerts/id519817714?mt=8>

Description: This app compiles all available information about your banking, balances and credit and debit card purchases all in one place. It provides you with information about your spending and alerts you to suspicious activity. In addition, it lets you track and analyze your credit score for free.

Prosper Daily

How it can help students with autism: This app can allow students the ability to see all of their financial information in one place.

$Free

Link to the app: <https://itunes.apple.com/us/app/prosper-daily-money-tracking-free-credit-score/id602710567?mt=8>