Use Policy

All files are provided for personal use only and may not be used for any commercial (for profit purposes). The data for these questions was gathered through my own contacts and cannot be used for any commercial purpose. If you have any questions regarding use, please email Britni@playpartyplan.com.

Holiday Family Feud

Numbers next to each question are the number of points for the answer. Choose how many of these answers you would like on each board - I've provided the top answers from my survey, but you could totally just put 5 or 7 answers on each board, just know that the point values add up to 100 with all the answers.

I also included Fast Money questions that I don't necessarily think people will get all of the answers, but if you're not doing Fast Money, you can use those as regular questions.

Additional Thanksgiving and Christmas questions have been added for 2023. All new questions are noted with a red heading.
